

A Love Story

Jack Goldstein

A relationship
Between three people
Who have never truly met.

A reader
A writer
And a protagonist

A story connects them
Puts them in a room
Outside of reality

A cosmic scale of fate
Wraps the three
in paracausal escapism

An individual
Seeking salvation
From a world that does them wrong.

A story to be told
From a powerless god
in control of their own reality.

A victim
Of a nameless gods whim
To create something.

A cosmic relationship
Built on love,
Love for the story itself.
