

Provence Peaches

Elana Moslander

This was a still life painting, captured from a moment in the famous Nice market in France. Upon entering the market I was immediately struck with the vibrant colors and the eclectic atmosphere. The colors of the fruits, the trinkets, the jams and honey along with the fragrant fresh ocean air and the background chatter of passersby made for an indescribably pleasant moment.

